

Dear Mr. LaRoe

May 21

I saw your billboard about your new bank and I visited the web site, I printed out your letter. I read it and it inspired me. Last year I learned about growing organic citrus trees and this year I am growing two organic trees for my 4-H project. I like the idea of water composting and I hope to try it this year. My Dad and I usually watch CNBC together in the mornings and I like following the market and checking oil prices. Your idea of combining banking and environment is exciting to me. I am interested in investing in your bank. Since I only have $100, I am going to get a group of kids together and make a club called the Green Being Group. Together, I hope to have enough money to invest in the First Green Bank.

Sincerely
Ben Sullivan
